

St George's Church, Astoria
Presents

Maxim Anikushin
In Concert

Sunday, February 5, 2012
5:30 PM

St. George's Episcopal Church
1402 27th Ave (corner of 14th Street)
Astoria NY 11102

Adults: $10 Children 12yr and under: $5
Call (718) 721-5154

A Brief Biography

Mr. Anikushin has studied with L.A. Andreyeva, Y.I. Batuyev, Milton Salkind, Oxana Yablonskaya and Solomon Mikowsky. He holds Bachelor and Master's degrees from The Juilliard School of Music and The Doctorate degree from Manhattan School of Music.

Mr. Anikushin has given numerous solo and concerto performances at such important venues in New York as Weill Hall of Carnegie Hall, Merkin Recital Hall, Steinway Hall and The Bruno Walter Auditorium of the Performing Arts Library at Lincoln Center among others, and overseas at The Big and Small Halls of The Moscow Conservatory and The Philharmonic Hall in St. Petersburg in Russia; at Palau de la Musica, Valencia (Spain) as well as in other halls in Israel, Italy, France, Canada, England, Belgium, Japan, Norway and Germany.

Mr. Anikushin's has received many prestigious prizes and awards include the third prize at both The International Senigallia Competition in Italy and the International Prokofiev Competition in St. Petersburg, Russia, second Prize in The International Vincenzo Bellini Competition in Caltanissetta, Italy, first prize in both The Long Island's Five Towns Competition and Carlet Competition in Spain.

Mr. Anikushin's highly praised recording Saison Russe, released on the Bel Air label in 2001, includes Shostakovich Piano Concerto #1, Prokofiev Concerto #3 and Stravinsky's Petrouchka with Dmitry Yablonsky conducting the Russian State Orchestra. Right now Maxim is working on the completion of an all-Barber recording for the Albany Records label.